Wrestling returns here

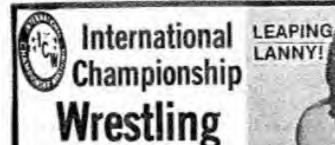

Professional wrestling returns to Campbellsville tomorrow night at the National Guard Armory with an all-star television card.

In the main event in ICW, world heavyweight champion Randy "Macho Man" Savage will team . up with Bob Orton, Jr., the current television champion. They will face the team of Leaping Lanny and "The Pistol Man" Pez Whatley. Lanny is the number one contender for Savage's title and Whatley is the number one contender for Orton's television

The semifinal match has Ric McCord, 1979 Rookie of the Year, going against Doug Vines, the Pride of Alabama and one half of the Devil's Duo. Vines and McCord have been at odds with each other since McCord beat Vines for the rookie honors.

In another outstanding match, "Hustler" Rip Rogers will test newcomer Buddy Landell plus there will be one other match. All the action gets underway at 8 p.m. with doors opening at 6:30.

Professional wrestling returns to the Carlisle National Guard Armory tonight at 8 o'clock with an all-star TV card.

In the main event, which will be 213 fails, Bob Orton Jr. will face Leaping Lanny. Orton refused to put up his TV title but agreed that if Lanny beat him in the first fall, then the second fall would have the TV title at stake. Orton is confident he can beat Lanny two straight falls. Lanny is co-holder of the U.S. Tag Team Title.

In the co-feature event it will be tag team action with the Devil's Duo (Doug Vines and Jeff Sword) with their manager Izzy Slapovitz going against the team of George Weingeroff and Big Boy Williams, Weingeroff is co-holder of the U.S. Tag Title, while Big Boy is co-holder of the Southern Tag Title.

In other matches "Hustler" Rip Rogers faces newcomer Buddy Landel and The Miser will test Ric McCord. All the action gets underway at 8 p.m.
